Allows me the option to watch TV and play. At 78 this helps me close the other thoughts I get, especially when the wife is around. This game is very fun, very addictive. Not too easy, but not too hard. The big drawback is that levels exceed 300. Just like the original Bubble Shooter game, they stop. I think we'll see if they add more levels because it's been almost a year in the original and they didn't do it in that version. The game is structured in such a way that, depending on luck or skill, you cannot avoid buying credits at some point if it is to continue. And that's where the criticism lies: The developers naturally want to earn money from the game, and not too short. My advice: when a purchase of credit points is due, it is not Play and reinstall. I've reached level 640. And until then, you can always have fun and spend time. Conclusion: a good game, almost addictive, which makes the game a little uninteresting due to a lot of advertising and a more level shopping mesh. Fingers out of the game when it comes to buying credits. Hi there, the ads allow us to develop new features and keep the game free to play. Just click X to close them. If you no longer want to see them, you can always get an ad-free version with any in-game purchases.)Best Regards, Ilyon Support. It is a very good game that always presents you with new challenges. If you act smart, you can create any level. There are endless attempts. I am currently at level 3,140 and I am eagerly awaiting more tasks. I didn't even have to buy anything. Bonus coins and additional help are regularly free and this is enough. Advertising is also tolerable. After all, you want to make money from the game. Currently, I spend time trying to get 3 stars in each level. It would be great if, after completing a level, you didn't start from the top again, but you would cling to the chosen location. The constant scrolling bothers you after some time. Or you should be able to select the desired level through an input menu. Press would also be a filter with which you can only display levels where you only got one or two stars. On this occasion I would like to ask the developers: Can you really get three stars in each level? For example, at levels 2,616, 2,396, 2,218, 1,860, and a few others, I have my doubts... Maybe you have a little tip for a loyal fan who has tried these levels at least 150 times!? Please keep us on new levels. You're doing great!!! Hey, thanks for playing. We are always happy to see that our players are having fun. Some levels are more challenging than others. Therefore, it may require a different strategy to earn all 3 stars. If you suspect a problem with a specific level, please tell us more about it at support@ilyon.netNeverever yet, we will gladly investigate the levels you have stated. :) Honestly, I support @ Ilyon. Since the upgrade, the iPod is no longer usable. When I can no longer listen to my music, the game is no longer usable for me. Please fix the errors urgently! Edit: The bug has been fixed. Hi there, we apologize for the bad experience you found. There are a number of music apps that cannot be used during playback, please contact us at support@ilyon.net so we can discuss this subject and offer our solution. Sincerely, I Ilyon support.
